ABOUT THIS BREEDER

BREEDER PHILOSOPHY

At Happiest Plants, breeding is deeply personal. Every hybrid begins long before pollen is ever transferred. Over the years, we have travelled across the world, from specialist growers in Thailand and Indonesia to private collectors and breeders across the United States and Europe, carefully selecting Anthuriums that truly stand apart.

Many of the mother plants within our collection were hand selected during these visits, chosen not simply for rarity, but for the qualities we believe define exceptional future hybrids. Velvet texture, dramatic venation, leaf shape, deep colouration, strong growth, and unique variegation all play a part in our selection process. Every plant in our breeding collection carries a purpose and a story.

Our collection brings together original clones, elite genetics, and rare variegated Anthuriums sourced from some of the most respected breeders in the world. By combining these bloodlines thoughtfully, we aim to create the next generation of Anthuriums that feel distinctive, refined, and unforgettable.

We believe great breeding takes patience. Not every cross is released, and not every seedling makes the cut. We grow slowly, observe carefully, and only introduce plants that genuinely excite us as collectors ourselves.

At Happiest Plants, our philosophy is simple. Preserve extraordinary genetics, push boundaries with intention, and create plants that will still feel special many years from now. Every seedling we release represents years of sourcing, travel, experimentation, and passion for truly exceptional tropical plants.
